Flower Enthusiasts Spend Afternoon at Sierra Madre Annual Flower Show

RARE EXHIBITS
RECEIVE AWARDS

With a background of perfect weather, amateur growers of this community who specialize in the culture of "mums," roses, dahlias, fruits and vegetables, had an opportunity to display the fruits of their gardens at the annual Flower Show of loveliness and beauty, held in Pritchard Hall Friday. It was sponsored by the Women's Society of the Congregational church under the supervision of the Misses Hilda Humphries and Roxanna Stevens. As usual, the show attracted many visitors from the neighboring cities as well as from our own community. Fine specimens of "mums," including cascade, spider, anemone, singles, pom-poms, small varieties, and incurve and reflex varieties in white, yellow, pink, bronze, red and purple were on display. There was also a splendid exhibit of miscellaneous flowers, shrubs and potted plants. One entire side of Pritchard hall was reserved for flower arrangements. The classification which created a spirit of keen competition was the decorating of a Thanksgiving table with service for eight. Miss Hilda Humphries was awarded the blue ribbon for her "Horn of Plenty" while Miss Jessie Southern had special mention, and the red ribbon was won by Mrs. Harry Johnson and the white ribbon by Mrs. Lottie Elwood. Other outstanding exhibits of interest were the unique table centerpiece of Mrs. Emily Childs, a replica of the one made by her for the Pasadena Flower Show; the Mallard Duck arrangement with desert background, by Mrs. Jovenat; the floral box by Ward's Nursery; the rare "Ruscus Aculeatus" with the blossom springing from the center of the leaf, and the Dwarf Yew, by Cloyd E. Marshall of the Sierra Madre Nursery; the fine collection of wax begonias by Amanda Freeland and the comic arrangement by Edith Pictor of "debris" from the gutters of Sierra Madre artistically arranged.

There were over 200 exhibitors. Among the blue ribbon winners were: Mesdames Adams, Childs, Cover, Doty, Dowling, Elwood, Everett, Hartman, Hempstead, Hull, C. W. Jones, Ralph Jones, Johnson, Leguin, Lord, Penn, Pendergast, Pictor, Reavis, Rockwell, Spencer, Turner, Walters, Whitney, and the Misses Humphries, Pritchard, Stevens, Sykes, West, Damon's Nursery and Mr. Gutherz.

Red ribbons were awarded to Mesdames Freeland, Hull, Jovenat, Jones, Moore, Penn, Pendergast, Tuttle and the Misses Sykes and West.

White ribbons to Mesdames Cover, Elwood, Hartman, Hempstead, Moore, Tufts and the Misses West and Sykes.

The floral exhibit with the added attraction of Christmas gift booths and a daintily served tea, was an afternoon well worth remembering.

Next P.T.A. Meeting "Fathers' Night"

The P.T.A. is to hold a "Fathers' Night" meeting Thursday, November 15, at 7:30 in the Grammar school auditorium.

The Glee club will entertain after which the speaker for the evening, Rev. Frederic Groetsma, will give a talk on the character education of the child in the home, in school and in the church.

The P.T.A. theme for the year is "The Home Establishes World Security," and Rev. Groetsma's talk will be in line with the idea.

The leaders of the various character-building organizations such as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, will be special guests.

After the meeting, refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

Since this is the one meeting of the year held in the evening to enable fathers to attend, it is hoped that there will be a good turnout of dads as well as mothers.

ARNOLD A. BROWN HOME FROM USS SEA POACHER

Arnold A. Brown of the U.S. Submarine Service on the U.S.S. Sea Poacher arrived in Sierra Madre Sunday to spend a 60-day leave with his mother, Mrs. Clair Varney. He will return to New London, Conn., December 15, for his honorable discharge. Arnold has four battle stars for four major patrols in the Pacific Sea Frontier. After his trip East for discharge he will return to become a partner with his brother, W. L. Brown, who was also overseas in the air forces in the Refrigeration and Home Appliance Service.

DR. WALLBANK SPEAKER WED. AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Dr. T. Walter Wallbank, Ph.D., of the history department of the University of California, will address the Sierra Madre Woman's club next Wednesday, November 14, at its second luncheon meeting. Dr. Wallbank, author of "World Turned," is a graduate of Oxford and a student of the London School of Economics. His talk Tuesday will be "Briton's Roll in Maintenance of World Peace." The luncheon reservations are in charge of Mrs. Chas. Klunk, 4774.

GRAND OPERA OPENS

The Shrine Auditorium was the mecca Sunday afternoon for a representative group of Grand Opera devotees from Sierra Madre who flocked in to pay homage to the great diva, Lily Pons, in Lucia Di Lammermoor, presented by the San Francisco Grand Opera Company.

Being the birthday month of several of the group a dinner followed at Lucia's in Hollywood. Among those who walked to the tune of "Happy Birthday" were Mesdames Herbert H. Davidson, F. E. Studen, Clara R. Jacobsen and the Misses Ellen Adair Simpson, Edna Sheehan, Mildred Curtis Bolms and Carol Fisher.

Garden Club Has Many New Members

"The Sierra Madre Garden club membership is increasing steadily," says President F. D. R. Moote. "Last year the club had a healthy enrollment of 60 members, but following the last program, when Mirandy was the guest speaker, the club found itself with an added 20 members. This year brings the Sierra Madre club up in first rank; it is the largest Garden club in the district."

The November dinner meeting will be held Monday evening, November 13th, at the Masonic Temple at 6:30. Reservations must be in before Monday, and will be taken by Mrs. Frank Cox, CU, 5-4383.

Mrs. A. R. "Peg" Jewell will talk to the club on "Dish Gardens," and all members having "dish gardens" are requested to bring them. Jacques Hahn will speak on "Gardens in November," and everyone will be pleased to know that Mr. Moote will be on hand to preside as usual.

Flying East Monday for National Show

Mrs. Bruce McGill with Mrs. C. L. Savage of West Los Angeles will leave Monday for an Eastern trip, via air. Their first stop will be Washington, D.C., thence on to New York to visit Mrs. Savage's sister, arriving in Philadelphia in time for the National Bull Dog Show. At the banquet following the show all accumulated champion trophies for the past three years will be made. There are 35 champions awaiting recognition. Mrs. McGill has been asked to appear on the program with greetings from the West Coast.

City Offered Warplane if Quota is Met

Dan Reib Receives Letter from War Finance Committee

Dan Reib, chairman of the Victory Bond Drive, is in receipt of a letter from M. Penn Phillips, also prominent Sierra Madre citizen, and chairman of the War Finance Committee for Southern California, with an offer whereby our city may secure a Navy fighter plane for a permanent war memorial.

Many Navy carrier-based fighters are being declared surplus and arrangements have been made with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to have these planes made available to communities meeting their E Bond quota in the Victory Loan Drive.

The planes cannot be converted to civilian or commercial use, nor can they be sold in whole or in part. They cannot be flown after they have been delivered.

The only cost will be $100 token payment and the cost of crating and shipping from the disposal point, and it is possible a Navy pilot can be secured to fly the plane for "presentation" into a nearby airport.

This would make a fine memorial for our city and it has been suggested that a suitable roof over the plane be erected at the City Park to protect the plane from the elements.

SERVICES TODAY FOR FORMER RESIDENT

John Wilson Hart passed away suddenly at his home in Whittier Monday evening at the age of 73. The Hart family has had an important part in the early history of Sierra Madre. Mr. Hart, retired assistant District Attorney of New York, was the son of Prof. John J. Hart, whose home was the site now used as the City Park. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elsie Bloomer Hart.

Services will be held at the Grant Chapel this morning at 11 with the Rev. Fred Groetsma officiating.

Our New Sewerage System

A public meeting will be held at the City Hall this evening at 7:30, which all citizens are urged to attend.

A. W. Rawn, County Sanitary District Engineer, will be present to explain the proposed new sewerage system.

He will have maps and explain the set-up, costs and reasons why this will be more economical for Sierra Madre than building our own system with disposal plant. Also showing that, unless favorable action is taken now, it may be impossible to join the county system later.

It is important that the people secure all information possible so as to be informed and entirely satisfied when the vote is taken, as the proposition will involve a considerable expenditure of money.

To the People of this Community

It would be pleasant to report that the Victory Loan is simply a valedictory to a great home front war program, a sort of final salute to the millions of volunteers who have worked hard and unselfishly to sell your defense bonds and war bonds, a platform from which to put ourselves on the back for a magnificent bond buying job.

Victory bonds, however, are not on sale for the purpose of self-praise. The government is asking you in this last drive to buy extra bonds because billions of dollars in war bills are unpaid, billions of extra dollars must be spent to bring your uniformed men and women home, billions of extra dollars will be needed for care of the wounded, liquidation of war contracts and maintenance of occupation forces.

Besides serving as guardians of the peace in enemy lands, Victory Bonds hold off the threat of inflation at home. For your own good, the Victory Loan should be your best performance of all the war loans.

New Building Approved by Commission

Will Locate Near the Pumping Plant Area

Because little has been said about the construction of the Youth Building it does not mean that the commission has not been working on the project. At the meeting Monday evening the plans for the building were approved and as soon as material is available the building will be under construction. All youth groups are feverishly awaiting to have a place of their own. The hut, as they choose to call their $4500 club building will be erected on the city property.

G. Russell Lovejoy Legion Commander

VICTORY DANCE SET FOR NOVEMBER 10

G. Russell Lovejoy is the new commander of the American Legion Post. He was appointed at the Monday night meeting to succeed Henry Clay Pruitt who resigned after moving to Pasadena.

Paul N. Carter, former councilman, gave a very interesting talk to the Legion about the Merchant Marine and the part it has played in the war and its indebtedness to the American Legion. The social committee of the Legion has arranged for a Victory dance to be held November 10 in the Woman's clubhouse.

POLICE BLOTTER

Car reported stolen from front of 475 E. Sierra Madre Blvd. Two later found along Morton Ave. If anyone sees or hears a shaggy black dog, Mrs. L. W. McMullen, 575 N. Madison, Pasadena, will appreciate hearing about it. He might be here. A strange dog acting strangely in the neighborhood of 669 Sturtevant Dr. was trailed by Officer Embree to the orchard along Morton Ave., at which point the dog disappeared among the trees. He was not seen again. It was not the black shaggy one.

Another queer-acting dog at the public school. Brot in by Fred Lewis. It was later redeemed by owner. It was only looking for the children who were in attendance at school. Police are asked to notify a mother that her son is in jail in Hawthorn. He was only in on a drunk charge, but to notify a mother that her son is in jail is not too easy. A hopped-up car reported going 60 miles an hour. That's really fast. About the worst hoodlumism of the night on Halloween was the case of throw- ing black paint over a gray-painted automobile owned by the Hutchesons of Carter Ave. Over-ripe eggs thrown at a front door left a bad impression. Bad could mean foul. If what was supposed to be prank of the boys turned out to be defective switch at 154 Mt. Trail Ave. The cops

FLOAT FUND SALES WILL MOVE WITH ADDED ZEST

Gay Boxes Capture Girl Scout Fathers

It was with much enthusiasm that some 134 fathers and daughters gathered for the annual Girl Scout evening and "Box Social" Friday, November 2, in the school. The competition for the prizes on the best decorated box was keen, and the judges had a real job deciding the winners from each troop: Troop 2, Diane Ferris; Troop 3, Valerie Valencia; Troop 4, Dona Meritz; Troop 5, Geraldine Marshall; Troop 6, Betty Kreuscher.

Marshall Stinson of Los Angeles delighted the audience with an illustrated lecture on "Clipper Ships." The pictures were beautiful and Mr. Stinson told of ocean currents and terrible storms at sea and of the colorful days of the California Gold Rush when the ships sailed from New York around Cape Horn to San Francisco. He showed pictures of some of the famous captains of those days and told of their character and bravery. While in Sierra Madre Mr. Stinson was the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Sam Haskins Jr. and family.

The Sierra Madre Girl Scout council and the Leaders' Association will hold a joint meeting at the home of Mrs. Sam Haskins, 171 W. Orange Grove Ave. Thursday evening, November 15, at 8 o'clock. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Haskins will be Mrs. Helen Hutton and Mrs. H. S. Dowling.

Victory Chest Behind $1150 on Quota

To date the Victory Chest drive is $1150 behind its quota. The Civic club reports a remarkable response from the Advanced Gifts but regrets that individual pledges have come in very slowly. The campaign has been extended to December 15 and any persons having been missed or who wish to make their contribution greater may call any of the following phones and the Civic club will send a representative, CU, 5-5474, 4864 or 6855.

YOUNG ARTISTS TO BE HEARD IN VESPER SERVICE

The Pilgrim Fellowship of the Congregational church will give a Vesper Service November 18 in the church at 5 p.m. This will be given for the benefit of the Young People's Fund and some of the best talent in the city will be heard: Barbara Bowman, pianist; George Tyree, baritone; Miss Norris, harpist, and Marileen and Marjorie Scoville, marimba artists. The program will present a group of our most talented young artists.

SOUTHLAND NOVEMBER TIRE QUOTA ANNOUNCED

While the number of grade one passenger car tires available to Southern California motorists during November will be greater by 17,931 than the October allotment, it just won't add to the individual purchaser's chances of obtaining one.

This rather unique situation developed today when OPA announced the November allotment as 134,687 tires, compared with October's 116,756, and at the same time pointed out that the increase must care for the needs of motorists in three additional counties—San Diego, Imperial and Kern, recently tacked on to the nine counties heretofore comprising the Los Angeles district.

Her record is the more impressive because she had been twice knocked out of action, but only temporarily. She continued operations after the end of hostilities, covering occupation troops. Her last mission was to drop food and supplies to Americans in prisoner-of-war camps.

The Hancock is credited with downing the last Japanese plane attacking Allied Naval forces in the war.

Purchase of a Victory Bond is one way of saying "thank you" to convalescing servicemen.

Girls' Grammar School Glee Club Gave Program for Kiwanis Club Tuesday

The group of songs which won the hearts of Kiwanis Tuesday, when the Girls' Glee club of the Grammar school gave the luncheon program was a selection of Kiwanis songs which the young ladies memorized and sang for the club with charming skill. Shirley Peterson at the piano. Thirty-two girls from the sixth, seventh and eighth grades, under the able direction of Mrs. Wanda Weiths presented a program of great credit. The special numbers included Elsa Seifert, soloist; Julia Counsellman, pianist, and Sally Jones, announcer.

Dan Reib, chairman of the Victory Loan drive, will be chairman of the program and will present several war veterans who will give short talks of their experiences. Mr. Reib has done a fine job on previous drives and on the work yet to be done.

The Fund Provides the 50,000 Flowers Needed for Float

Alfred Dewey is not only the designer of the Sierra Madre Float which will represent the city in the famous New Year's parade but he is providing the incentive of a greater Float Fund Sale of tickets by donating a painting to the person selling the most tickets.

The committee from the Sierra Madre Civic club who has charge of the sale advises the public that if the sales move along with enthusiasm the public will not be asked to contribute more, but if it lags everyone will be called upon to do his financial share. This is one of the greatest opportunities to let the world know that of such beauty as the float will reveal is our mountain town.

The Sierra Madre Float will take a prize if we provide the material for the artists to work with.

Traditional Rites Witnessed by Guests at Anoakia School

The 15th annual Ring Ceremony honoring the 36 members of the Senior class was held at Anoakia, this being one of the many functions on the calendar this month. The largest Senior class in the history of the school took part in this traditional ceremonial, the lighting of the candles from the hearth is symbolic of the motto of Anoakia, "Per Lucem Potentia" and a dedication of the class to perpetuate the ideals of the school. Parents and faculty were guests and a delightful social hour was enjoyed after the ceremony.

Local Man with the Famous Carrier "Fightin' Hannah"

Carlos Reyes, 18, S 1/c, 179 N. Grove St., had chalked up, with other crewmen of the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Hancock, as impressive a record as just about any ship of the fleet, before "calling it quits" in the Pacific and returning to the States for Navy Day.

Though "Fightin' Hannah" looks peaceful enough now at her moorings in home waters, her appearance belies a hectic career of 10 months in the battle zones, during which her planes destroyed 723 enemy aircraft, 14 warships and 31 merchant ships. Her anti-aircraft guns have 10 "notches" for that many attacking planes knocked down.

Commissioned in April, 1944, the Hancock wasn't ready to join the 3rd Fleet until October, 1944, but from that day, she left the Japs reeling from Wake Island to Hokkaido. Included in her fighting itinerary were Okinawa, Formosa, Luzon, Iwo Jima, Tokyo, Honshu, Kyushu, Hokkaido, Leyte, Hong Kong, and Kobe Harbor.

Her record is the more impressive because she had been twice knocked out of action, but only temporarily. She continued operations after the end of hostilities, covering occupation troops. Her last mission was to drop food and supplies to Americans in prisoner-of-war camps.

The Hancock is credited with downing the last Japanese plane attacking Allied Naval forces in the war.

Purchase of a Victory Bond is one way of saying "thank you" to convalescing servicemen.

Local Red Cross Plans Home Service Program

Prediction that Red Cross work with veterans will increase for at least ten years was voiced yesterday by R. C. Lewis, chairman of the Sierra Madre Red Cross chapter.

"Post-World War I experience indicates that Red Cross services to veterans will be called on more and more for some years ahead to aid ex-servicemen and their families," he asserted. "The job this time will be a much bigger one because of the tremendous number of men mobilized in World War II."

The chairman explained that Red Cross aid to veterans is provided through the home service department in local chapters, through Red Cross workers in military camps and hospitals, and through Red Cross field directors in Veterans Administration hospitals and offices.

"Home service in our local chapter stands ready to help any veteran in the community who needs assistance in applying for and securing government benefits in the preparation of forms, and in obtaining documents such as birth certificates," he stated. "Counsel service on family and personal problems also is available."

"Service to veterans is part of a continuous Red Cross program for men who are or have been members of the armed forces. It begins when a man enters military service and continues as long as he needs help. Red Cross workers are stationed in camps and hospitals both domestic and overseas to aid the serviceman with personal and family troubles. After a man is discharged, home service in his local chapter is ready to provide Red Cross assistance."

FULL-TIME HELP NEEDED. MAN OR WOMAN.

"CROSS-SECTION"

By Mona Lee

Dear Mona Lee:

If you can help me solve my problem I will be eternally grateful. Several months ago our family doctor told me that my mother is suffering from an incurable disease. Providing she takes things easy and does not overdo, she can live a few years, but over-exertion will aggravate the trouble and shorten her life perhaps to months. She does not know how serious her illness is. Mother is a "worrier" and I feel that if she knew her time is limited she would want to put her affairs in order, yet I haven't the heart to tell her. Meanwhile she continues to lead a far more active life than her condition warrants and no matter how I try to relieve her of various tasks, she always finds something else equally tiring. I imagine I can see her fading before my eyes, but have not the courage to tell her the truth. What shall I do?

T. C.

Dear Mrs. T. C.:

Yours is indeed a painful problem and you will have to choose between two evils. If you were to tell your mother the truth about her condition, no matter how tactfully, it would no doubt be a shock, and if she were compelled to suddenly change her way of life, abandoning the activities which she evidently enjoys for the life of an invalid, that in itself would wreck havoc. It is far better to let her follow the regular pattern as long as she is physically able, deriving as much pleasure and happiness from life while she can, than to bring home the realization that her days are numbered. Snatches of a lovely poem run through my mind—I'm sorry I don't know all of it, but perhaps this much will make you see what I mean. "My candle burns at both ends—it cannot last the night" but oh, it gives a lovely light!"

Dear C. A.:

Your letter was appreciated very much, and I am replying through the column because there may be others who, like yourself, have a problem they feel the need of discussing with some disinterested person, yet hesitate to avail themselves of the opportunity offered in this column for fear of recognition. If you could but see the letters that come to my desk, you would soon realize how similar the various cases are. With but a slight twist now and then, any dozen problems might apply to the same individual, yet each appears to be the one involved to be isolated and identified only with that person. Rest assured therefore that all letters are kept confidential, and I hope you will now feel free to adopt without reservation any help I am able to offer in the solution of your problem.

ROBERTS MARKET

and Things!

A Rolling Stone Gathers No Moss...

AND POP MUST HAVE believed this old adage 'cause he sure fixed me so I can neither roll nor hop—and as to moss, I don't think there is any on MY back—but from what people say while plucking the green vegetables 'round me, I must be doing a good job!

M-M-M-M-M, say they: "aren't these the nicest radishes? Isn't this fine watercress? And look at this lovely endive!" etc., etc.

I HAVE HEARD the mothers and wives of returning soldiers and sailors say that green vegetables and fresh fruits are what the boys are hungriest for. I'm mighty glad I can help them have these things at the peak of freshness and vitamin value. ("The Best at Its Best," remember?) Sometimes I almost feel that I have helped just a wee bit in the War Effort.

AS TO BUYING BONDS, I can't do much except to harangue you folks to buy them. Where I am concerned, POP is tighter than Edgar Bergen. At least Bergen does give Charlie McCarthy two bits every Saturday to spend as he pleases. I am telling you the honest truth: POP has never given me a red cent since I have been working for him! I am patriotic, too, and I would like to contribute my share to all worth-while causes. As it is, I must leave that to you and MOM and POP. All I can do is sit here and croak!

MOM VENTURED INTO HER GARDEN yesterday to pick some guavas. Some were on the ground and she almost picked up a baby frog. Imagine her surprise. We frogs get around, don't we?

HERE IS A RECIPE MOM promised a lady:

FRENCH DRESSING

1 cup salad oil
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 cup sugar (white Karo OK)
1/2 teaspoon salt
Juice of 1 Lemon
Grated onion or onion juice

MIX THOROUGHLY!

AND HERE'S THE RECIPE POP promised you last week:

PERSIMMON PUDDING

1 cup persimmon pulp
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sweet milk
1 cup flour
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 cup walnuts and raisins

Mix thoroughly and bake slowly.

The most lovable quality any human being can possess is tolerance. It is the vision that enables one to see things from another's viewpoint. It is the generosity that concedes to others the right to their own opinions and peculiarities. It is the bigness that enables us to let other people be happy in their own way instead of ours.

THE STORY OF BENNIE LYON

Mr. and Mrs. Ben M. Lyon of 760 Canyon Crest Dr. never gave up hope that they would see their "Ben" until the following letter from Bennie's closest friend. Mr. and Mrs. Lyon haven't left a stone unturned to find out the circumstances of their son's death. They have visited hospitals, written dozens of letters, used long distance to talk with returning officers, piecing together scraps of information which might complete the story of Bennie's service, as horrible as they feared it might be. The only official information received was that Ben died of pneumonia in a prison camp.

My dear Mr. and Mrs. Lyon:

When my sister first wrote me asking about Ben, he had been dead then about 18 months. It came as a shock to us that you, up to that time, had had no word.

Yes, we (and I speak for the Radiomen who were with Ben at Cavite) all knew Ben very well. When Corregidor finally fell, we were all herded up to Cabanatuan Camp, in the Philippines, where we remained for about four months. Most of our illnesses COMMENCED THERE, due to the extremely low food ration. Ben, like the rest of us, commenced having Beri-Beri badly. Later they (the Japs) wanted "300 technicians" for "technical" work in Japan. So practically all us Radiomen from Cavite were chosen. We were glad to get away from the Hell of Cabanatuan, thinking ANY change might be a little better.

So in September of 1942, we were put on a boat at Manila, for shipment to Japan. We, however, stopped first at Taiwan, and there we spent the most hellish seven weeks of our lives. We were there, they told us, to learn Japanese "etiquette." We were put to work on a rock pile. We dug, we carried, we worked like dogs, beaten, starved. And slowly our health went down and down. In three days our first Radioman died. (Starvation). We buried him on a hill there in Taiwan.

Ben's feet were very bad with Beri-Beri. He was unable to go out to work and he, along with others, was kept in camp.

Somehow those seven weeks went by and we were put on a boat again for Japan. And so, on November 28th, 1942, one of the bitterest and coldest mornings of our lives (we were in the thinnest of clothes from the Philippines), we were all, about 540 men, taken to a big building—just an old barn, really—cold, dirty, dark and gloomy—and lodged there. We slept on straw mats on raised wooden floors, off the cement floor of the building.

Five "blankets," cotton, were given. Twenty would not have been enough. But from that bitter cold morning, standing there in the biting, freezing winds, most of the boys caught their death of colds. If, on arrival at our camp, some sort of warmth, some medicine—anything to stop those colds in the beginning—most of the boys might have been saved.

But nothing, nothing, but cold and hunger met us there. In three days, seven men were already dead. We had one British Army doctor, but he was powerless, since they wouldn't give him even an aspirin for the men.

And so Ben was down badly with this bad cold. His Beri Beri, which he had badly in Taiwan had cleared up. Only this bad cold he had. He slept close by me.

And then we were put back to work at the Dockyard in Yokohama. Sick as we were we were made to go to work.

God! how cold it was, in our thin rags, working in the biting wind out on those ships. And so for about two weeks Ben struggled on. Then he was getting worse and the Japs allowed him to stay in from work. But he only stayed in two days and they drove him out again.

Then it was Christmas, 1942. We all had a day off and Ben rested again. We, at this time, each got a food box from the British Red Cross. I can remember Ben trying so hard to eat some of those good things. He was still quite bad, running a high fever every day (103 or 104 was common for us to work with). But next day, December 26, we had to go to work again. It rained bitterly. We were soaked through. BUT WE HAD GO TO WORK.

Ben was quite bad. His back, his chest hurt so badly, he said. We built wood fires in the yard and got Ben around it, to give him what warmth we could. Even the Nip workers told him to stay there and not work. And on the morning of the 27th of December, 1942, Ben was very bad, so they kept him in. And that afternoon about 4 o'clock Ben left us.

We all felt his loss badly. We had all come through so much together. In the first six weeks at that camp 42 men died. Pneumonia, they said. BUT WE CALLED IT MURDER!

That Commandant has no doubt paid for his sins by now—for we turned in hundreds of charges against him.

I remember Ben writing a will. (It was a Jap order.) There was something about a ring, and about some property, which he left to his mother.

To all us Radiomen who finally did come through (and so many did not) Ben will always be remembered by us. He was liked and loved by all.

His body was exhumed, cremated. Did you receive the box? They told us they were being sent home. We tied the box in white silk ribbon.

Grieve not, dear lady, for he was a swell guy. Kindest thoughts,

BERNARD ABRAMS.

EARLY LOS ANGELES RECORDS EXHIBITED AT HUNTINGTON LIBRARY

Among the features marking the reopening of the Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery to visitors this week-end is a display of some of Los Angeles county's earliest records, which have been deposited in the library by the Board of Supervisors.

On view is the first account book kept by the Los Angeles county treasurer, beginning July, 1850, two months before California was admitted as a state to the Union. It reveals that the balance on June 30, 1853, was $5400, a sum in marked contrast to the balance of $65,000,000 on June 30, 1945.

The supervisors deposited the documents in the Huntington Library to insure that the priceless originals will be protected in every possible way. Photostat copies of essential records have been supplied the county recorder for purposes of reference.

Visitors to the Huntington Library are reminded that the galleries are open every afternoon but Monday, and that reservations may be made by telephone or mail.

D.D.T. RESIDUE SPRAY IS BEST FOR WALLS

D.D.T. is more effective in destruction of insects when applied as a residue spray to walls and surfaces visited by insects, according to entomologists on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

Residual sprays dry and leave D.D.T. deposits on surfaces to kill insects that come in contact with it. The most effective deposit is spread when the sprayed solution contains approximately five per cent of technical D.D.T., say the university men. Usual household sprays, containing pyrethrum or rotenone as the killing agent, achieve a rapid knock-down of insects, but do not produce persistent killing deposits such as are obtained with the five per cent residual sprays. D.D.T. in oils should not be applied to animals, food, food containers, or to places where unprotected food may be stored.

WAS YOUR FIRST FAMILY CAR ONE LIKE THIS?

As auto factories are now getting under production on postwar models, there comes to our mind names of some cars that were in use years ago, all of which have ceased to be manufactured. Many of our younger readers probably never heard of some of these makes, but older ones will recall them, and some without doubt owned one or more of these makes while they were on the market. Here they are: Kirt, Regal, Oakland, Dolson, Marion, Cutting, Roamer, Hackett, E-M-F, Flanders, Maxwell, Chalmers, Brisco, Elgin, Grant, Stearns-Knight, Imperial, Little, Durant, Star, Stutz, Paige, Graham, Elcar, Cole, Locomobile, Hupp, Franklin, E-C-H, Stanley Steamer, White Steamer, Keeton, Carnation, Saxon, Brush, Lexington, Gardner, Enger 12, Great Northern, Kissell-Kar, Duryea, Dort, American Underslung, Rambler, Altair, Metz.

See how many your friends can name without reading the list.

A good car will now do 20 miles to the gallon and two pedestrians to the mile.

Armistice Day

Like a ghost from the tomb of the past, the anniversary of Armistice Day rises to remind us of the great good that might have come to all men if the expectations of that day had been fulfilled.

It was on November 11, 1918, that men hailed the birth of a new era in human relationships—an era in which the world would be "safe for democracy." Governments were to settle their differences by international arbitration instead of international anarchy; justice for all peoples, both great and small, was to be achieved through the League of Nations.

But the fervent hopes and joyous expectations that were born that day did not long live. They were suffocated in the atmosphere of intense national selfishness, jealousy and power politics.

In 1918 men thought—or professed to think—that lasting peace could be attained through holding conferences, making agreements, signing documents. These things were done, but permanent peace did not come. Why? Because the form for peace was there, but not the spirit. Conferences without co-operation, agreements without adherence to them, signatures without sincerity—all these led down the well-rutted, one-way road to a repetition of the holocaust of 1914-18.

Armistice Day of 1945 finds us telling ourselves that "this time" the sacrifices of our boys will not have been in vain. They need not be, but their sacrifices alone cannot insure peace. Permanent peace must grow out of the day-to-day efforts of men of all nations to deal with each other tolerantly, patiently, understandingly.

If this be done, the haunting ghost of Armistice Day will vanish, for the great good which that day promised will be achieved.

Stop Strikes

The California Unemployment Board took a step in the right direction towards discouraging strikes when they refused to pay unemployment insurance to striking employees involved in the motion picture strike.

We fail to see how men who can work should draw compensation for refusing to work. If they are unable to find employment, and are in need, they are entitled to help, but when they are crippling industry and recovery and the livelihood of other people, there is no reason why the public should contribute to their violent actions.

Strikes should be outlawed. They are hindering the reconversion and the prosperity of the Nation. Their grievances should be put before a judge and jury, the same as other disputes, and settled there.

A local student of events and trends comes up with a solution against strikes aimed at the public welfare. He proposes a law licensing all persons holding semi-public posts, such permits to be cancelled whenever any such employee strikes to cripple services having to do with heat, light, power or any utility serving the people. Taking away their license to work, this man says, is clearly within the power of the state to protect its citizens and industries. The plan would only apply, of course, to public services. Disputes between private capital and labor is not a part of his agenda.

DO YOU RECALL?

(From Files of Nov. 8, 1907)

The Pacific Electric has consented to have the last car leave Sierra Madre at 10:10 instead of 9:10 to allow friends from Los Angeles, Pasadena and other points to return the same night without leaving shortly after the dinner hour. Also the last car will leave Los Angeles at 11:30 instead of 11:15, to allow our people to attend the theatre and not have to leave the performance before the end to catch a car.

William Harper, Los Angeles City Forester, will speak at the Town Hall, November 14, on "Street Tree Planting and Suitable Varieties of Trees for Sierra Madre," under auspices of Women's club.

Rev. James M. Campbell, pastor of the Congregational church, has an extensive literary reputation. He is the author of nine books, two of which have been published this year—one in London and one in New York.

A new piano has been installed in the school building.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Ward, Highland Ave., entertained Tuesday evening at whist. Rev. Bentham and Mr. Stevenson captured the prizes.

The studio of Mrs. Borglum was visited by 30 people Sunday.

AROUND AND ABOUT

By EDWARD LLOYD VOORHEES

THE EMERALD ISLE—It was my first voyage to Europe. Veteran travelers on board our Cunarder, S. S. Laconia, had told me they had never before had such a smooth crossing. It was really like the proverbial "millpond" and in my bunk I could scarcely detect that I was on a ship. There had been salt dips at dawn in the "rigged" canvas swimming pool of our "Tourist Class," brot at 11:00, tea at 4:00, and sound British hospitality at all times—with dancing to British and American music played by the "Morgan Collegians" every evening, not to mention the daring new "tango," danced so perfectly by the attractive Spanish brother and sister Maduro that everybody always stopped to watch them. My group of ship acquaintances were about a dozen, ranging in age from 18 to 40, men and women from colleges, business, and the professions, and we had lunched, read, promenaded, played shuffleboard, "horse races," exchanged confidences, and had the usual mild flirtations.

Then at daybreak on Sunday morning, June 28, 1925, I looked out of my porthole and there was land—my first sight of the Old World! There before my eyes was a red and white cottage on a high green hill above the gray rocks of the shore—a bit of south Cork bay to the port which had been Queenstown, but was now, since "the trouble" of 1916, called by its Gaelic name "Cobh" and pronounced "Cove." I said goodbye to my friends of the voyage, for I was the only one of our group stopping off in Ireland. The passengers who did embark there included persons on business and American Irish revisiting the "auld sod," including the bright Irish lad of 15, with his parents from Kansas City, who had confided to me that he thought his sixth trip "too many for a boy of my age." But I had the impression that of the Tourist Class I was the only non-Irish person who was going to see Ireland.

And why did I want to do this? The answer was a bit involved, but I knew I wanted with all my heart to do it. One of the reasons was the fact that from my early childhood I had known and liked many Irish people. Early in life some of my warmest—and most turbulent—friendships had been with boys and girls of Irish parentage. When I was 12, there had been lovely Norah Welch of about the same age, who had died, and I had been one of the boy pall bearers to carry her white casket into the Catholic church and to her grave—and quite irrelevantly I had invaded an orchard with others on the way home and stolen green apples. And I greatly admired Norah's big brother, Frank, who was always generous and pleasant to me, and I enjoyed and cheered his almost daily fist-fights with pugnacious Harry Beal on our way home after school. And there had been Ione Brown, a real beauty with her blue-violet eyes and blue-black hair, with a witty tongue in her head, for whom I secretly yearned to do some Great Deed, although she continued to treat me with disdain—until the day of my fight with Chester Davis, when I was electrified into a small champion by hearing her scream, "Pound him good, Eddie!"

And as I grew up there were other Irish school and college friends, later acquaintances, and several beautiful and extraordinary Irish women, and the great body of Irish literature, with its unique color, wit, imagination, and charm—Goldsmith, Burke, Sheridan, Thomas and George Moore, Wilde, Yeats, Shaw, and Joyce. I was fascinated by Irish poetry and Irish folklore, the stories of the "little people" and of the great fighters, and the legends of Isolde the Beautiful, and Deirdre of the Sorrows, for whose beauty many men spilled their life's blood in strife. And I was fascinated by the dominant qualities of the Irish people I knew or read about—their warm hearts, their quick, witty tongues, their perverse wisdom, their flatterer but often convincing "blarney," their pugnacity—when not directed toward me!—and their quixotic unpractical idealism.

Is Ireland in reality "a little bit of Heaven" that "dropped in the sea one day"? And if so, why have the Irish left it in millions to come to America? The obvious answer is, of course, "hard times in Ireland"—the potato famine of 1846, and since then the large amount of waste land over there and the system known as "absentee landlordism," the reasons for which it is not expedient to attempt to review here. But, in short, no one can blame the Irish for coming to a country where they can better themselves materially—even if they left what they considered, idealistically, "a little bit of Heaven" to do so! What intrigued me to stop off in Ireland was my curiosity to see the land and breathe the air that could cause such nostalgia in its emigrants and endow my Irish friends with the qualities which I have cited. For I have steadily believed that these songs, sentimental as they usually are, and the almost universal admiration for Ireland expressed by her sons and daughters in America can not be entirely explained by such aphorisms as "Distance lends enchantment" and "Absence makes the heart grow fonder." And so, we start at Cobh.

OPA APPOINTS VETERANS RELATIONS ADVISOR; EXPLAINS HOUSE NEED

Ernest Adams yesterday was appointed acting veterans' relations advisor of the OPA for the Southern California district. The appointment was made by the agency's district director, Paul Barkdale D'Orr of Sierra Madre. Coincident with Adams' appointment, the district OPA office was visited by Col. Paul S. Lawrence, veterans' relations advisor, Lawrence, here from Washington on a nation-wide tour, said that No. 1 problem for discharged service men is housing. "And," he said, "We all know that in Southern California it is particularly acute and likely to become more so."

Lawrence said that eight per cent of the armed forces are from California, but that at least 10 per cent of those being discharged settled in this state—and by far the greatest number of them in the southern part. Further adding to this area's housing shortage, he said, is the fact that some 84 Army and Navy hospitals—far

NOV. 21, 1945AN IMPORTANT DATE FOR
THOUSANDS OF ARMY VETERANS
NOW IN CIVILIAN LIFE

Between now and November 21, thousands of Army veterans will reenlist in Uncle Sam's new volunteer peacetime Army. Because men who have been discharged between May 12 and November 1 of this year and reenlist on or before November 21 will be able to return to the Army with the same grade as they held when discharged.

Men with six months of satisfactory service discharged as privates will, on reenlistment before November 21, be given the grade of private first class.

Men now in the Army who apply for discharge after NOVEMBER 1 for the purpose of reenlisting in the Regular Army will also retain their present grades, if they enlist within 20 days after discharge and before FEBRUARY 1, 1946.

"BEST JOB IN THE WORLD"

These special privileges are typical of the new law recently passed by Congress. Few opportunities for a lifetime career offer as many attractive advantages.

Can you think of any other job that would give you good pay, your food, clothing, quarters, free medical and dental care, world-wide travel, 30 days' furlough every year, education and training in any of nearly 200 skills or trades, and enable you to retire with a life income anytime after 20 years' service?

There isn't any! That's why a job in the Regular Army has been called "The Best Job in the World."

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE NEW ENLISTMENT PROGRAM

- Enlistments for 1½, 2 or 3 years. (1-year enlistments permitted for men with 6 months' service.)
- Men reenlisting retain their present grades, if they reenlist within 20 days after discharge and before Feb. 1, 1946. The same applies to men discharged between May 12 and Nov. 1, 1945, who reenlist before Nov. 21, 1945.
- An increase in the reenlistment bonus to $50 for each year of active service since the bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service.
- 20% extra pay when overseas.
- Paid furlough, up to 90 days, depending on length of service, with furlough travel paid to home and return, for men now in the Army who enlist.
- Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to reenlist.
- Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' or three-quarters pay after 30 years. (Retirement income in grade of Master or First Sergeant up to $155.25 per month for life.) All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
- Benefits of GI Bill of Rights.
- Family allowances for the term of enlistment for dependents of men who enlist or reenlist before July 1, 1946.
- Choice of branch of service and overseas theater in Air, Ground or Service Forces on 3-year enlistments.

Dear Harry Gill:
Thank you for sending me "The Most Delightful Companion," which I have read with the deepest interest, and envy, too. It is very convincing corroboration of my long-held belief that revelation did not stop with the Apostolic age. It seems to me that our churches are so busy looking backward for precedents that they forget the ever-present inspiration that they might receive now and here.

The beatitude "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God," has been constantly in my mind since reading of your experiences. Your portrait of Jesus is indeed that of the Son of God and Leader of men, who will draw all men unto Him. Perhaps your testimony may help to reveal Him to this sinful age, which so needs to be redeemed from its degradation.

Very gratefully,

The worry wrinkles in the forehead of that man behind the counter are smoothing out. He's grown ten years younger in the last two months. His ration rash has disappeared—or almost. He's decided the world is not such a bad place after all. Once or twice lately, in unguarded moments, he's been seen to smile.

Boy, he's had his troubles—but now most of the water's under the bridge. He's done a man's sized job—followed ten million and one directives of OPA—kept his customers smiling (although the smile was a little sickly at times)—and kept himself out of the insane asylum.

This country would have gone to the bow-wows a good many months ago if it had not been for the courage and the patience and the patriotism of the man and woman behind the counter.

The brewers of Eastside Beer (and we are sure this goes also for the other folks who furnished him with the things he sold) are grateful for his tolerance during the trying times that are ending. Orchids to you, Mister! We'll say that again.

And speaking of flowers, we down at Eastside have had no bed of roses. To the thousands of new beer drinkers in Southern California, our beer deliveries have seemed to be too little and too late too often. And we've been called too many names by too many people. But through all this hullabaloo there's one thing of which we've made sure—that Eastside would continue to be Eastside—the same grand beer you enjoyed before Pearl Harbor.

If you think it was easy to stick to that quality standard, you're crazy. How simple it would have been to add water and add sales!

We're happy to inform you that there'll be more Eastside soon. We're building and buying new equipment—big shiny new copper kettles, great glass-lined storage tanks where Eastside is aged Nature's way.

Yes sir, war is what General Sherman said it was. But without war we'd never know the sweetness of Peace.

Accident Reduction 100% by Shell Oil

Reduction of accidents to the vanishing point—almost unheard of in American industry—has won the U.S. Department of Labor's "Certificate of Safety Achievement" for the natural gas and gasoline division of Shell Oil Co., Inc., which employs 140 persons. Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach sent the certificate to Robert S. Tulin, division manager, with a letter complimenting the division on attaining a perfect safety record without a single disabling accident for a period of six months. "In reducing the rate of accidental injuries to employees by 100 per cent, in comparison with the similar period in 1944, you have made a substantial contribution to the public welfare. Moreover, this accomplishment is a very useful demonstration that accidents on the job can be effectively controlled and will encourage other industrial enterprises to undertake a concentrated safety effort."

FIRE FLAMES

Last meeting night called for the members to be adorned in their uniforms and despite that some of the suits are very old, there were not many fined for lack of neatness. Two members who failed to appear are liable to much resentment from those who made special effort to abide by the Chief's instructions. One especially, who was first to suggest the wearing of the blue. Tickets should be ready for distribution among the firemen at tomorrow's regular meeting, and the annual Christmas Party is on the way. There will be none of the assembly excused from receiving a pack of the cards, so even though a member may stay at home, the tickets will soon reach him via another course.

When Jim Heasley in the role of policeman met Harry Lange trying to sell life insurance to Onnie Kiggins, he said, "Don't you know that you can't sell insurance without a license?" "My gosh, No, Jim, I didn't. I knew I couldn't sell it, but I didn't know the reason," answered Harry.

We note with much pleasure that our old jubilant fine collector has been attending meetings. To see Louie Karger back in the fold makes us "old timers" feel more at home. He has that gift of arousing a cause for a fine with much humor added. After aiding the Chief with the uniform inspection last week, he was alarmed to think that the boss would fine him for a slight offense against the uniform. This is course is "unusual" in the fire department.

Nearing the end of the year and about to enter the winter, we have been exceptionally fortunate about unwanted fires. Let's keep our fingers crossed until the rains really soak the ground. There is no reason to relax our vigilance and carefulness. Those of us who know better should be alert and assist those who do not know. We can at least inform them or inform the fire department. Just how many fires have been prevented by the actions of the firemen will not be easy to estimate. It is a profound certainty that a completely extinguished fire is not going to set fire to something else. Many of these smoldering menaces have been eliminated by the firemen during the year. We want to thank those who offer such whole-hearted cooperation in aiding the firemen to keep down the fire loss. Our records speak for themselves. It is much easier to prevent than to put a fire out.

The reporter thought of several ways the following conversation could be interpreted:

Vern Udell: "Does this wind bother you?"

Bob Orme: "No, just talk as much as you please."

Vern: "I like arithmetic when it ain't over my head."

Bob: "That's the way I feel about pigeons."

From there on, the reporter was unable to cope with the situation.

The men of the fire department are very, very grateful to the town's boys and girls for the manner in which they conducted themselves over Halloween. The old-fashioned way of destroying neighbors' and friends' property is certainly not commendable and fathers who fail to tell their youngsters of this mistake are surely laying a foundation to retard progress of better life and things. Ask ourselves a question, "Where is the pleasure in destroying something that someone has worked hard to build?" What is the answer?

The fellows who represented Sierra Madre at the Firemen's Convention are around telling each other what a wonderful time they had. This is causing many of us to get an itchy feeling to go somewhere. Why not? Life at best is very short and why the struggle? Let's get going. Never do we attempt to write Fire Flames that we do not think of Harlan, Bill, Bob and Lee. May they be as happy as they were as firemen.

We cannot plead without a certain amount of repetition about being careful. We must keep in mind the danger of fire. It is our earnest desire to have a low fire loss, not only this year but from now on. Let's keep the FIRES OUT.
